Treasurer.

A. B. LOCKE,
ARTHUR C. WATERHOUSE,
CHARLES A. TEBBETS,

Selectmen of Barrington.

BARRINGTON, N. H., February 23, 1907.

We have examined the foregoing accounts, and find them properly vouched and correctly cast.

LEWIS N. SMITH,

Auditors of Barrington.

Report of School Board.

To the Citizens of Barrington :

As is customary, the school board submit a brief report of the year's work. There have been three terms, in all thirty-four weeks.

In several of the schools, the attendance has been excellent, especially those in which the parents have taken a personal interest.

We have endeavored to secure competent teachers and in most cases, they have faithfully and conscientiously performed their duties.

During the past year, Winkley school has remained closed, as there were but two pupils. One of these is attending school in Madbury, the other attending the Swain school.

The Evans school was badly broken up by whooping cough and measles; and, by request of the parents, a term of nine weeks was held there in the summer.

On looking over the books, it was found that the spelling books had grown so old and worn that we needed a new supply. so we changed for Aiton's, which is widely used in the public schools. It has proved so attractive to the pupils that they have taken more interest in learning their spelling lessons.

After careful examination it was found that the Swain school needed extensive repairs on the interior. It has a new floor, also two new doors, and the walls and ceiling have been sheathed and painted. There have also been some repairs made on several of the other school buildings.

The coming year as the school boards wish to do some much needed work on the Canaan, Pond Hill and Oak Hill school-houses, they think they shall need an appropriation of two hundred dollars for that purpose.

Some think it would be better to have but two terms and pay higher wages, thus securing better teachers. Good teachers not only expect to be well paid, but also expect to be employed most of the time, and they will choose the place where there are three terms in the year. We know whereof we speak, for several times just as the term was to begin, we have lost the teacher already engaged, by her obtaining a position where she would receive a larger salary for the year. If the neighboring towns have a winter term, why cannot Barrington? This has been an exceptional winter, and each week it has seemed as though we had had the last of the very cold weather.

We urgently invite the parents and friends to call occasionally and find out for themselves what the teachers are doing for the children.

For several years past, the report of the school treasurer closed August first. As many persons have criticized this, he has brought the record of the school accounts up to February fifteenth, nineteen hundred seven, the same time the town books are closed. You will see that the accounts from August first, nineteen hundred five, to February fifteenth, nineteen hundred six, are also brought into the report, which has made much extra work for our present school treasurer.

ANNA G. WEEKS,
ANNIE L. WENTWORTH.
